

fromPermissions, School (HSP-ORL) <School.Permissions@hmhpub.com>
to"heatherhebard@gmail.com" <heatherhebard@gmail.com> dateThu, Aug 5, 2010 at 1:50 PM
subjectFW: Request Permissions

Dear Ms. Hebard:

Thank you for your email dated July 29, requesting permission to include a copy of pages 326-327 from DELIGHTS Teacher's Edition, California in HOUGHTON MIFFLIN READING: A LEGACY OF LITERACY by J. David Cooper and John J. Pikulski, et al., © 2003, Grade 2, Theme 6 in your dissertation entitled "Writing Lessons: Case Studies of Beginning Teachers" as well as for submission to Stanford University.

We are pleased to grant your request on a one-time, nonexclusive, and nontransferable basis as stated, provided that you agree not to portray our copyrighted material in a negative manner, and that no deletions from, additions to, or changes in the material will be made without prior written approval of Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company. This license only applies to use of our copyrighted material specified above as examples in your dissertation, and does not authorize mechanical or electronic reproduction in any form. Permission granted herein is limited to material owned by Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company.

Any copies produced of your dissertation will be distributed on a gratis basis. Should you wish to formally publish your dissertation, please re-apply to Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company for authorization to include our content prior to publication, and include a copy of this grant of permission. All rights not specifically mentioned herein are reserved to Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company.

The following credit line must be included in each copy of your dissertation on the page in which the material appears:

From DELIGHTS Teacher's Edition, California in HOUGHTON MIFFLIN READING: A LEGACY OF LITERACY, Grade 2, Theme 6. Copyright © 2003 by Houghton Mifflin Company. All rights reserved. Reprinted by permission of Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company.

Thank you for your interest in our publications.

Sincerely,

Regina R. Green
Senior Contracts Administrator/Royalties & Licensing
Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company
222 Berkeley StreetBoston, MA 02116Phone: (617) 351-5389
Fax: (617) 351-3546
Email: Regina.Green@hmhpub.com